FOR GROWERS

We list a range of the most popular varieties for potting on, marked by a 'P' in the list.

FOR NATURALISING AND LANDSCAPING

All bulbs are from cultivated stocks, including the true native bluebell Endymion non scriptus, and are suitable for growing in a range of situations from semi-shade to woodland, under grass to more formal plantings. Our planting guide suggests planting densities and locations.

BULB PLANTER FOR UNDER GRASS PLANTING

Do you have a large area of bulbs to plant under grass? Under grass planting is a time consuming physical job that can be done poorly affecting the bulb performance by inconsistent planting depth. You can hire a machine from us that will reduce the planting time, saving labour cost and effort and will plant bulbs at a consistent depth that will improve flowering the following spring.

The Mounted Under Grass Planter - A tractor mounted bulb planting machine that is capable of high volume planting under grass and turf. You need a small compact tractor of 25hp plus to operate the machine.

The machine cuts the turf and the bulbs are planted directly underneath the turf at pre-set rates depending on the variety and bulb size.

The machine re-firms the grass back into position. Full operation instructions come with the machine. Not suitable for very stony or hard clay soils.

Daffodils are the mainstay of Spring flowers, reliable, colourful and still very good value.

They are invaluable - planted in drifts under grass, under deciduous trees or shrubs, garden borders and containers. Daffodils never fail to deliver beautiful blooms throughout the Spring.

For planting see our price per 20kg or by the 1000.

For retailing you can sell by count (approx. 350 bulbs per 20kg net) with a suggested selling price of 5 bulbs for £1.00.

Alternatively we have a wide range of Netted and Bagged Narcissus (page 23) already packed into smaller units ready for sale.

PLANTING DEPTH

Generally plant bulbs to a depth twice the height of the bulb. Potted bulbs can be just under the surface of the compost. A good quality potting compost or bulb fibre is recommended.

Once potted careful water management is essential to ensure the bulb is not over wet, yet damp enough to encourage rooting. Rodent control is important as mice can devastate tulips, fritillaria and anemone.

GROWING COLD

Involves potting the bulbs and growing them under unheated protection or outside. Under protection they will flower up to 2 weeks earlier than their natural season. Most varieties can be grown cold. Some bulb varieties can be grown in their natural season and included with herbaceous plant sales - allium, erythronium and camassia.

FORCING

Involves potting the bulbs and giving them a 6-8 week period of cold and preferably dark conditions to emulate winter. When growth is showing (2-3" on hyacinth) uncover and bring in to the growing area where the temperature should not be more than 60°F to start, increasing the temperature gradually to encourage the bulb to flower early. Suitable varieties are hyacinths and paperwhites.

BULB STORAGE

Unpack bulbs on arrival or at least open outer boxes and open paper bags and preferably stand bags out. FRESH AIR AND AIR CIRCULATION ARE VITAL. Keep off concrete floors. Bulbs are best stored at an even temperature with low humidity. Prepared bulbs should be planted immediately.
